

FRENCH MODISTES SAY THE 'BAREBACK' HAS COME TO STAY

American Buyers Declare
French Styles Adaptable to American Women.

PARIS, Feb. 21 (Associated Press).—A return to conservatism in woman's dress is indicated in advance displays for spring and summer now being held in Paris. Several hundred American buyers who have arrived for the seasonal fashion shows are more pleased than they have been since the armistice because of the ease with which the new modes can be adapted to American taste.

Backs are still bare. This the dress-makers have refused to alter. American buyers are purchasing these "bareback" models with a view to modifying them in America.

While the new gowns are less radical, buyers say they continue to be complicated and expensive. With the reappearance of dyes of a pre-war standard, color dominates all gowns. The material may be simple, but gold and silver and blue and pink trimmings are combined to make it attractive. As one buyer described it, "modern simplicity implies expense, old fashioned simplicity daresness."

For the Eastern type of beauty the season offers much. There are draperies and turbans of all variety of color and long strings of beads of all the colors of the rainbow. Beads are to be worn extensively according to the arbiters of fashion.

The corset has again been ignored. No serious and consistent has become this coolness to what was formerly fashion's basic principle that corset manufacturers are contemplating an extensive campaign to bring the corset back into its proper place. Paris dressmakers say that corsets "are simply impossible" if one desires the utmost in smartness.

Feathers play a most important part in the new hats. Ostrich plumes in particular are being used on large hats. Hats for the most part are small and are worn crushed down on the head in many shapes.

Bunches of fruit and flowers are worn at the waist and some of the gowns have belts of roses around the waist.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It
Darkens So Naturally
Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it assumes its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Advt.
